Suggestions From All Sorts of Se Discussed-No Expectation of Def-inite Rulings From This Meeting. -New Faces in the Committee

The intercollegiate football rules comterday morning and plunged right into the work of reforming the game. That is to say, they were all in their meeting place at the Hotel Cumberland, Broadway and Fifty-fourth street, in the morning Dr. James A. Babbitt of Haver He came in later in the day. Thus for a time there were only thirteen regular makers, and it was a Friday soo. bination apparently means evil only the old style of football.

committeemen were busy from about 30 o'clock in the morning until very late night. As E. K. Hall of Dartmouth, secretary, said, they would discuss the secretary, said, they would discuss the gene until they were groggy. It certainly looked like a head splitting job to tackle the thousand and one sets of sug-gestions and just stray individual itleas that had been furnished to the committee-men by associations and persons, not to at the theories they had formulated

While there was nobting definite that was done in a constructive way through day's conferences; the content of was the general idea that the meeting erday and its continuation to-day may not result in the announcement of any te new rules but that by the end vill have separated the impracticable and conflicting ideas from the rest and that then there will be something to go on.

committee members then will be and to devote their time to a further ieration of the suggestions then re ining. They will be able to consult

The members of the rules committee caline that the situation is serious. They call that they are bound to take a greatical of time to the consideration of any alterations in the game, although they do not question for a moment that changes will be made.

One of the first things done yesterday was to make the statement that "football as played in 1909 contributed more dangers than in any preceding year and that it shall be the duty of the committee to determine the cause of this added danger and the

the cause of this added danger and the remedy for it."

The rules makers had under consideration a widely circulated table of football injuries and deaths, from which it was deduced that two deaths only, those of Archie Christian and Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, were of men adequately trained for the came. All other fatalities were assurbed to improper training.

The first thing done yesterday by the committee was to reorganize for the season. Prof. L. H. Dennis of Cornell was reselected chairman and E. K. Hall of Darthowth secretary. Walter Camp of Yale was named editor of the rules book once nore. These at the first season besides he three just named were Crawford Blagan of Harvard, Lieut. F. D. Berrien of the Yayal Academy, John C. Bell of Pennsylvania, C. W. Savage of Oberlin, Prof. A. A. Stagg, University of Chicago; Prof. H. L. Williame, University of Minnesota; Parke I. Davis of Princeton, W. L. Dudley of Anderbilt. W. A. Lambeth of the Univerty of Virginia, and H. B. Hackett of the Editary Academy. Dr. Babbitt, as said, came later.

Lieut. Berrien was there in place of Paul I. Dashielt. Mr. Bell will leave after the selon this morning and Carl Williams, who was in and our of the meeting yesterday, will take his place.

Dr. Dudley presented suggestions made by the Southern Intercollegiate A. A. Prof. Dennis those made by the Cornell seculty. Prof. Stage those of the conference, and Dr. H. L. Williams the expression made at the recent meeting of the l. C. A. A. U. S. Prof. Stage also had something to say about injury being traceable to the two or three man to one tackling and also pulling and piling up. Then the committeement took up other suggestions and began to digest them.

There was an intermission about 1 o'clock for luncheon, when the first announcements were made by the committee. Then they went into session again and staved at work until about 8 o'clock. After the aftermoon session there was a deal of persistent questioning of the committeemen, which led one of them to say: This is not a matter for of hand judgment and it is hard to say just what has to be done with the game. Remember that when the game was reformed only recently it took more than two years and a half to bring it down to a stage where all the ideas about open play were adopted. We thought at that time we had guaranteed open play, but it did not last. This is a bigger task and takes more time.

Some one asked whether Rugby had been considered as a substitute, and it was answered that this game had not been spoken of. Parke H. Davis, the Princeton tepresentative, then gave some statistics in the state of the property of the prop wis answered that this game had not been spoken of. Parke H. Davis, the Princeton representative, then gave some statistics of injuries at Rugby as furnished to him by Donald G. Herring, the ex-Princetonian, who played on the Oxford Rugby team against Cambridge. In that intervarsity game, according to Herring's figures, one forward had his leg broken, an Oxford three-quarter, after twelve minutes of play was taken out with a broken collarbone, the leader of the forwards on the Oxford side had a cartilage broken and the Oxford side had a cartilage broken and the Oxford president was dazed in a play in the early part of the game and did not recover for a long time.

Also in other games played against Oxford one man had his leg broken and two others had collarbones broken. "That," sail Mr. Davis, "does not recommend itself to me as a particularly gentle game "tlenn Warner, the Indians' football couch, was there, looking up a schedule for next season. Joe Pendleton, the official: E. R. Bushnell, M. E. Webb, Jr., Dexter W. Draper and Charles Keinath, who was stopping with the Penn basketball team af the hotel, were among those about the corridor.

CURRENT CHAMPIONSHIP. CURRENT Tennis Players Decide on New Event at Annual Meeting

The United States National Lawn Tennis Association held its twenty-ninth annual convention at the Waldorf-Astoria last night and delegates and proxies representing 260 clubs were there. Dr. James A. Dwight, president of the association for the last eighteen years, presided. The first business of the association was the roll call and it developed some confusion. Vestern and Southern clubs, showed that their proxies were incomplete, though is was no fault of the clubs. This was caused their headquarters and when the mail was directed there it was sent to the dead lette office. To judge from the reports sub-mitted by the Western delegates it was evident that they had secured proxies enough to control the meeting. This was something new in this annual conclave. During the afternoon the Western and Southern clubs were in caucus several times.

The report of Secretary A. L. Hoskins was polished off in a few words. He said that all the business of the association had been printed in the official organ and was well known to all members of the association. The treasurer's report was rather modefinite. After all the items had been disposed of there was about $2,500 on hand. The expenses of the Davis cup trip to Australia were $2,000.55. This means that there was a loss to the association of about $500. A vote of thanks was passed to the officials of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association for their courtesy to the American team, and the American Consul at Melbourne gots vote of thanks. Maurice F. McLoughin and Melville H. Long, the California players who went to Australia, came in for some words of praise over their efforts to bring back the cup.

The election resulted as follows:
President—Dr. James A. Dwight Beston.

The West made a bold effort to try to get some new men on the executive committee. Dwight F. Davis, who donated the Davis cup, wrote that he could serve no longer, Nine men constitute the committee and fourteen were nominated, including Bundy and Hardy of the Pacific Coast and D. P. B. Hawk. After the tellers had been out for half the night Dr. Hawk was found to have replaced Davis, and that was the only change.

half the night Dr. Hawk was found to have replaced Davis, and that was the only change
Dr. Hawk offered a motion that there be held a "clay court championship of the United States." He laid stress on the fact that he wanted no such thing as the word "national" prefixed and the motion went through with a how!. Robert D. Wrenn seconded the motion. The Omaha Field Club was suggested as the best location for the clay court tourney.

The question of challenging for the Davis cup was discussed. President Dwight suggested that it might be better to wait one year, as it would be necessary to challenge by March. F. G. Anderson of Reading, Pa., moved that a challenge be sent and that a committee be appointed to ascertain the names of the men who could be available to make the team. F. B. Alexander spoke on the motion and said he thought that it might be easy to win the cup this year as Brookes wad been married and was practically out of the game.

It was decided to hold the finals of the national singles and doubles at Newport. Harry C. Mgrtin of the Crescent A. C. spoke in favor of having the national preliminary doubles of the East, West, South and Pacific played at Bay Ridge. Dr. Hawk thought it would do a great amount of good to have the matches go to the West. The voice of the meeting was for holding the doubles at the Onwentsia club, Chicago.

C. C. N. Y. TEAM WINS. Local Basketball Players Defeat Penn

Last night at the Seventy-first Regimen Armory the basketball team of the College

In the second half, with Kaufman and Gorshen playing for Goldman and Periman respectively, C. C. N. Y. played all around respectively, C. C. N. Y. played all around the visitors, running up eleven goals to their one. In all departments of the game the home players excelled.

Sedransky, who does not weigh over 130 pounds, played like a flend. He drew a roar of applause from the thousand spectators when he was tackled around the waist in jumping to throw a goal and in falling backward threw the ball over his shoulder in one of the most spectacular efforts seen this season. Kaufman shared in the honors, landing three goals in succession in less than a minute's play on passes from Hess and Gorshen.

Hoppe Beats Morningstar.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 4—In the last night's play of the 1,500 point match between Willie Hoppe and Ora Morningstar here, Hoppe showed conclusively that in the previous two nights play he had been simply loafing. He ran his third needed 500 points to-night while Morningstar was making 225, and the total for the players at the end of the match was Hoppe, 1,500; Morningstar, 1,032.

Hockey.

Yale and Cornell will play their game to-night in the Intercollegiate Hockey to-night in the Intercollegiate Hockey League championship series at the St. Nicholas Rink. The New Haven team has only played one game in the series and was beaten by Princeton. Cornell has a good team considering that this is its first season in the Intercollegiate league. The Ithacans showed up well against Princeton and Harvard and may make Yale hustle some to win to-night.

Canadian Curiers Win.

WOULD DONLIN PLAY HIS OLD

GAME ?" ASKETHE FANS.

Year's Absence From Diamond Might Be a Handicap, Some Believe—But if Himself Again He'd Strengthen the Glants-Griffith Improves Reds.

Could Mike Donlin show his former skill as a ball player if he decided to return to the Giants? This query was prompted terday by the periodical rep Donlin had made up his mind to return to baseball. Sir Michael did not say so himself, but his freinds were busy telling one another what a great thing it would be for the Giants if Donlin could reach some agreement with President Brush ship game since the fall of 1908 there is doubt as to this ability to show the

The argument set forth by expert trainers that athletes of all classes cannot retire from active competition for a year or more and then come back with their former strength and stamina, which has been applied to the case of Jeffries, may be used in sizing up the future ability of Donlin and Catcher Kling of the Cube, who has been out of the game for a similar length of years ago. There is no doubt about that. But whether vaudeville engagements in stuffy theatres, with practically no outdoor ecreation, have gradually dulled Sir Michael's qualities as a diamond star is a matter that cannot be cleared up until he has put on a uniform and has taken part in a number of pennant contests.

be a tower of strength in the Giants' outfield, which evidently needs bolstering McGraw has found it a difficult matter to secure new stars either by purchase or trade, and it is said that he is anxious to have Donlin with the team once more. As far as salary is concerned many fans believe that if Donlin could deliver the goods it would be a stroke of business policy on the part of President Brush to accede to this great player's demands.

In securing Pitchers Covaleskie Beebe and Infielder Storke Clark Griffith believes he has made the Cincinnati Reds more formidable as pennant chasers than ever before. Griffith has always main-tained that a powerful pitching corps backed by an ordinarily fair lot of fielders and batathis idea in mind he has gradually secured a staff of pitchers calculated to make opposing betsmen do a lot of gussing. The Reds have a smashing good infield now with Hoblitzel, Egan, Lobert and Storke, and a powerful outfield, including Mike behind the bat and such pitchers as Covaleskie, Beebe, Spade, Gaspar, Fromme, Rowan, Campbell and others the Old Fox believes he can afford to pradict big doings for Cincinnati this year.

In view of recent events in the turf world involving the ownership of no d thoroughbreds it will not be surprise if the Jockey Club in future exercises me evigilance in looking into partnerships etween promonent owners. For the best, iterests of the turf it is maintained by leading racing men that there should be no myster as to the real ownership of thoroughbreds and that all transactions involving the stransactions involving the stransaction of the real ownership of thoroughbreds and that all transactions involving the stransaction of the real ownership in the stransaction in the ninds of racing patrons. In short it is argued that everything shall be above board if the confidence of the public is to be retained.

of the City of New York defeated the five of the University of Pennsylvania by the score of 37 to 16. The local players had the game well in hand from the beginning and quickly took advantage of the absence of Capt. MacNicol. Although the game was hardly what would be called rough time was frequently taken out on account of injuries received, principally due to the slippery floor.

Many fouls were called on the local five, and Saxe, Penn's clever foul thrower, took advantage of this by scoring five neat baskets in the first half. His field goal and the one by Kennedy at the beginning of the half brought the score to nine. However, for every foul goal the C. C. N. Y. players scored a field goal, and by the end of the half led by the small margin of six points.

Harvey and Boyo Driscoll, the Irish feather-weight, arrived here on the Mauretania yesterday morning. He had just time enough to take lunch with some friends before catching the Twentieth Century Limited for Chicago. Coffroth is hurrying to California at top speed in order to win a bet of $1,000 made with Eugene Corri of London that he will arrive in Frisco next Tuesday.

In discussing pugilism Coffroth again denied that he was interested in the Jeffries-Johnson fight, though he admitted he had arranged to show the pictures of the mill in various European cities. He declared that he would try to arrange a match between Phil McGovern and the winner of the Webster-Attell bout, and would also offer a purse for a battle between Owen Moran and the winner of the Powell-Mempsic contest. He intimated too that Jem Driscoll and Abe Attell would meet at Colma soon for the featherweight championship.

Racetrack Dates Still Unsettled.

The committee of New York racetrack owners which is trying to draw up a tentative schedule of dates for this year held another fruitless conference at the Jockey Club's headquarters in the Windsor Arcade yesterheadquarters in the Windsor Arcade yesterday. James Butler of the Empire City track was unable to attend the meeting, so nothing could be accomplished.

It appears that each track owner has submitted a schedule and the committee, consisting of Andrew Miller, P. J. Dwyer, W. H. Reynolds, William A. Engeman, S. L. Parsons and James Butler, are trying to mould an arrangement of dates that will be universally satisfactory. From what was said yesterday the conclusion was drawn that it may require some time and considerable diplomacy to achieve such a result.

There will be another meeting en Monday and by that time a tentative schedule may be ready for the scrutiny of the Jockey Club's stewards.

Tuxedo Horse Show.

Tuxedo Horse Show Association will hold its 1910 show on Friday and Saturday. June 10 and 11, the week following the Plainfield show. In addition to the usual Plainfield show. In addition to the usual classes for heavy harness, saddle and road horses, trotting races will be given for free for all trotters, green trotters, best in three half mile heats, and a trotting handicap, one mile heats, to carts. With the many fast trotters owned in Orange county, these races are sure to be interesting and exciting. The Tuxedo Horse show Association will run a special horse and carriage train from Jersey City to Tuxedo and return for the convenience of New York exhibitors.

Conference Between American and No tional Trotting Officials.

A conference of unusual importance to the breeders and owners of the light harness horse and the first of the sort took place terday at the Murray Hill Hotel betwee the officers of the American Trotting Asso ciation and the National Trotting Asso ciation. The former is especially the Western board of review in light harness racing, but its territory in places overlaps that of the initial and greater organization and some clubs having tracks are members of both the American and National asso The conference will be continued to-day and is for the purpose of eliminating any differences that exist in the rules of the two great powers in light harness racing and to weld the rules of both into a compact and weld the rules of both into a compact and uniform code. The action has been talked of for some years, but is now made imperative by the growth of the Western trotting circuit and the admission of Western tracks to the grand circuit.

The representatives of the American Trotting Association at the conference are its president, W. P. Ijams of Terre Haute, Ind. G. H. Maddin, Montgomery, Ill. T. H. Gill, Milwaukee, Wis., and W. H. The work yesterday was a threshing out of the old rules and nothing new in the way of rules came under discussions will not be made public, but it will be submitted to the rules committee of the National Trotting Association.

The rules committee, of which John E. Madden of Hamburg Place, Ky., is a new member, will be in session on Monday and Tuesday at the Murray Hill Hotel. The proceedings will be presented in a report at the biennial congress of the National Trotting Association in the same hotel on Wednesday. There are over 700 clubs in membership and each will be represented by a delegate or a proxy. Besides acting on the proposed changes in the rules, such as that suggested against the use of hoppies on pacers, officers and members of the five district boards will be elected. The beards consist of three members and represent the Eastern, Atlantic, Central, Western and Pacific districts.

hance that Edward W. C. Arnold's big Flat racer with which Lewis Strang won all the short free for all events on the Atlanta automobile speedway last November may be matched against the new Benz racer in a contest over the Florida beach at Day-tons. The Florida East Coast Automobile Association of Daytona has reconsidered for the beach this winter and is now making plans for a race meet during the latter part of next menth.

When it developed that the offer from Atlanta for a match between the two big cars had not been authorized by the president of the company that controls the big speedway race enthusiasts feared there would be no chance until summer for a match between the two speed monsters. friend of Mr. Arnold said last night that he thought Mr. Arnold would enter the big Fiat in races over the Florida beach pro-vided the Florida East Coast Automobile Association promotes a meet there, but he did not think Mr. Arnold cared to enter the Fiat in a match race against the Benz

George D. Barron, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Automobile Club of America, has announced that the next regular club night occurs on Tuesday enstration by Hiram Percy Maxim.

W. F. Kimber, chairman of the committee appointed by President Crosby of the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club to conider the advisability of adding an aviation section to the organization, has made number of suggestions that will be acted upon by the club's board of trustees. The committee recommends that the name of the organization be changed to the New Jersey Motor Club, as the member the committee believe this title would be a better one for the club in its proposed be a better one for the club in its proposed enlargement of activity.

The committee recommends that several new sections be added to the club to include all branches of motoring—not only automobiles but motor boats, motorcycles and all sorts of motor driven aerial craft. The trustees are to consider the recommendations at their regular meeting on Monday night and then the proposed changes will be submitted to all the members of the club, either at a special meeting to be called by President Crosby or at the regular annual meeting in April.

Automobilists of Trenton have taken steps to put a stop to reckless driving in the streets of the New Jersey capital and have enlisted the aid of Mayor Madden, who has instructed the police officers to arrest all drivers who do not obey the laws. The agents for the Maxwell, Locomobile, Buick and Winton have been running private shows of these cars at their salesrooms this week, as no local show is scheduled for the city.

The members of the Chicago Automobile Trade Association held their annual banquet last night and about 150 members of the organization and factory representatives were present, as there are a great many men from various plants in Chicago making preparations for the annual show there that opens this afternoon. The affair was managed by W. G. Tennant, Peerless representative in Chicago, Henry Paulman, the Pierce-Arrow agent, and E. Q. Cordner, manager of the Studebaker branch.

Mayor Appleby of Asbury Park believes the great and constant increase in automo-bile traffic makes it necessary for oties and lowns to discard gravel surfaced roads towns to discard gravel surfaced roads and adopt pavements of asphalt, brick or wooden blocks. In an address to the city fathers of Asbury Park Mayor Appleby recommended that the Council ask the Legislature to distribute the funds received from motor vehicle registrations direct to the municipalities of the State, the money to be apportioned according to the mileage of improved roads in the various municipalities.

EASTERN LEAGUE MEETING. First Day Devoted to Changes in the Constitution.

MONTREAL, Feb 4 .- After an all day ssion of the Eastern League clubs owners Powers announced that the entire time had been devoted to amending the constitution and that the schedule would be dealt with

The salary limit question was not touched, but it is regarded as practically dead. The chief amendments to the constitution included a change whereby no club can use a player unless he has signed a contract. Previously a chie could use a player for five games without his signature to the official document. Owing to a complaint from the other clubs about the free list in Buffalo the number of passes in all cities is limited to fifty. The visiting clubs are to get a percentage on all free tickets exceeding this number. After four months of the playing season have expired no player can be sold to another club in the same league.

Waivers secured in the off season are only legal until the regular season starts. A penalty of $250 and forfeiture of the entire share of the gate receipts is provided for teams leaving the field in the progress of a game.
